

To: Transfusion Services Managers
From: Hospital Relations Department
Date: December 5, 2018
Re: Rh Negative Red Cell Inventory

Although recent red cell collections have been strong, there has been a persistently high demand for group O Rh negative, B Rh negative, and A Rh negative red cells. This has reduced our inventory of these blood types far below the other red cell inventories.

Please work with our distribution department in their review of your Rh negative red cell orders.

In addition, please consider evaluating the stock levels of your Rh negative inventories during this time.